The Father of Summer Opera.

Mr. S. W. Fort, who for five years has been the manager of the Baltimore Academy of Music, has been dismissed, and Mr. H. J. Conway has been appointed in his place. Mr. Fort's dismissal has exused quite a sensation in Baltimore, where he has a large circle of friends. It is understood that differences have existed for some months past between Mr. Fort and the owners of the academy in regard to certain details of administration, and considerable bitterness is said to have been the outgrowth. Mr. Fort was the originator of the summer opera here and in Baltimore at Mr. Albaugh's theaters. The Father of Summer Opera.

Parties paying a visit to the capital can have more comfort and attention for the money at the Hotel Arno, Sixteenth street, between I and K northwest, than can be obtained at any other hotel. Everything is new and complete at this establishment.
